TRUSTS IN AUSTRIA.

Every Branch of Industry Being Affected by the Tendency to Combine.

The prevailing tendency in Austria at present is to form trusts in every branch of industry, according to a report to the state department from Consul Hugh Donzelmann at Prague. The advance in the price of raw material and the increasing competition are given as reasons for the formation of the trusts. The judiciary department of the government is reported to be working on a general law governing the formation and conduct of trusts.

A noteworthy fact in connection with the coal strike last winter which caused much suffering among the people is cited by Consul Donzelmann. A number of wealthy manufacturers, employing between 5,000 and 10,000 people, when confronted during the winter with the choice of closing their factories or losing money by paying the current prices for coal, continued to run with full force rather than throw people out of employment during the cold season. Austrian manufacturers, says the consul, complain against the United States' tariff, which they claim shuts them out of the American markets, but they do not take into consideration the tariff policy in Austria, which is strongly protective, and absolutely prohibitory as to some articles, the duty upon some lines of trade being so large as to make it impossible for Americans to compete in the Austrian market with home manufacturers.

FLOATING HOTEL.

Arbuckle, the Coffee Man, Plans an Innovation in the Way of Summer Luxury.

John R. Arbuckle, the coffee man, will open a hotel, not on wheels, but in a keel, this summer. It will be, literally, "washed by the waves," for it will be afloat. It will combine all the comforts of a great hostelry with the luxury of a yacht. The big sea-going bark, Jacob A. Stambler, will be Mr. Arbuckle's floating hotel. It now lies at the foot of Van Brunt street, Brooklyn, where carpenters, upholsterers, steamfitters and other mechanics are putting it into shape.

Those who will live and voyage on the craft will have to pay according to the size and position of the state-rooms they occupy. There will be 75 staterooms, accommodating 150 people. Some will be rented for one dollar a night. People can make arrangements to live on board the vessel all summer or they will be accommodated for one trip. At a stated hour in the evening the bark will go to sea and remain out all night. It will return to its pier early in the morning with the guests refreshed ready for another day's work in the sun-baked city.

The hotel on a keel will make longer trips on Sundays and holidays and will carry its guests to yacht races and marine fetes. It will be splendidly provisioned, but no liquor will be sold on board. The vessel has both steam and sail. The Stambler is 240 feet long, and formerly plied between Havre and New York.

WILL MAKE SMALL ARMS.

The United States Arsenal at Rock Island to Be Equipped for This Purpose During Coming Year.

During the next year the buildings at the Rock Island arsenal will be equipped with machinery for manufacturing small arms. In the sundry civil appropriation bill there is an item appropriating $500,000 for completing the installation of the plant and the purchase of tools, fixtures and other appliances for the manufacture of small arms in the armory shop at that place. It corrects a blunder made by the ordnance bureau of the war department. Last year that bureau was asked to make an estimate of cost of installing machinery for manufacturing small arms. This was done, and congress appropriated about $200,000 for this purpose, but when the time came to enforce the law it was found the ordnance bureau had made a mistake of several hundred thousand dollars in its estimate.

Therefore, it was decided that nothing should be done until an appropriation large enough to carry out the project was available. As soon as it becomes a law the department will begin the work of installing the machinery at Rock Island, as it has had ample time to make all the necessary preparations.

IS OVERSTATED.

Consul Holloway Makes Statement Regarding Wealth of Siberian Gold Mines.

Consul General Holloway, at St. Petersburg, has given the Siberian gold mines a black eye. In a report to the state department he says: "The value of Russian gold mines has been greatly exaggerated. Several experienced American mining engineers, who are admitted to be the best in the world, have visited Siberia in the interest of English as well as American capitalists during the last three years and made extensive examinations of the conditions, and I have not heard of a single company being organized as a result of their reports. The mining is almost all placer, there being but two small quartz mines in the Ural mountains, which are owned by French capitalists, and are said to be losing money."

Great Wheat Guarantees.
